Montana Collected.

SHRUBS

50¢ each, 3 for $1.00

*Seed 75¢ per pound, 10# any one variety, $6.00. Order seed in advance of the collecting season.

Acer glabrum

- * 'Mt. maple'. A tall graceful shrub, the leaves coloring beautifully in fall. Good drainage in sun.

Amelanchier alnifolia

- * 'Sarvis berry'. Tall shrub, racemes of white flowers followed by edible purple berries. Good drainage with moisture and sun.

Arctostaphylos uva-ursi

- * 'Kinnikinnick'. Rather dry, well drained soil.

About 20 varieties of the Heath family occur in Montana, chiefly at high elevations. Others will appear in future lists.

Asarum columbianum

- * 'Purple Virgin's bower'. A meager vine with large, solitary purple flowers. Well drained soil in partial shade. Good climbing into evergreens.

Clematis linguicifolia

- * The 'Western Virgin's bower'. A hardy vine with clusters of white flowers. A good covering for low rock piles or fences. Any loose soil, in sun.

Cornus stolonifera

- * 'Red stemmed dogwood'. A high bush vigorous in moist soil. Cut back annually for bright colored twigs.

Crataegus columbiana

- * 'Thorn tree'. White blossoms followed by red apples.

Crataegus Douglasii

- * 'Thorn'. Small, well branched tree with abundant, white, 10 to 15 flowered corymbs followed by red apples turning black or purple when ripe. A good tree for the bird sanctuary.

Holodiscus ariaefolius

(Sericotheca discolor) 3-5'.

The dense terminal panicles of white flowers give it the common name, 'Ocean spray'. Moist, well drained soil.

Juniperus sibirica

- * Semi-spreading evergreen up to 4'. Channelled needles in whorls of threes, white above, green below. Drainage and some shade. Blue berries $1.00 per pound.

Lepargyrea canadensis

- Low 'Buffalo berry'. Leaves green above, white below.

Oostemon racemosa

- * 'Oregon grape'. A low holly-like evergreen with fragrant yellow flowers and purple edible berries. It is favorably and widely known. Sandy or rocky loam, in sun or shade. In sun it colors beautifully after frost. Root cuttings (stems with piece of root attached) 75¢ per 100.

Opulaster malvaceus

- * 'Nine bark'. 3-5 ft. shrub. Terminal corymbs of white flowers.

Pachystima myrsinites

- * 'Mt. lover'. An attractive, small-leaved evergreen. Up to 3'. Much used for florist's greens. The tiny axillary flowers, with thick stigmas, give it a pinkish cast in early spring. Well drained, moist soil and partial shade suits it. Root cuttings 75¢ per 100.

Philadelphus Lewisii

- * 'Mock orange'. Given room and a rather rich, well drained soil, it develops into a large bush up to 10', covered in spring with a mass of large, white, fragrant, four-petaled flowers.

Potentilla fruticosa

- * 'Shrubby cinquefoil'. A 2' bushy shrub with pinnate leaves and yellow, rose-like flowers. Any cold, open ground.

Prunus melanocarpa

- * 'Chokecherry'. An erect, slender shrub or small tree up to 15'. Clusters of white flowers followed by red berries turning black, and edible when ripe. Deep, sandy loam with moisture.

Rus glabra

- * 'Scarlet sumac'. 2-8'. Brilliant foliage after frost.

Sorbus occidentalis

- * 'Western Mt. ash'. Up to 10'. White flower clusters followed by red berries.

Spiraea lucida

- * 'Birch leaved spirea'. Low bushes with terminal clusters of white flowers.

Symphoricarpos occidentalis

- * (or racemosus) Charming 2-5' bushes. The inconspicuous flowers followed by loads of white berries.
